The declaration filed 2-9-04 has been considered and it was noted that there was no mention was made of the third author of the article, R.G-N. Gustafsson. However, the statement in the declaration that the description from the publication is derived solely from the inventive work of co-inventors coupled with the absence of any evidence that the third author has refused to disclaim inventorship or believes himself or herself to be an inventor was considered to be sufficient to remove the reference as being prior art.
